Official SAT® Practice on Khan Academy featured on the Today Show!
SAT Test Prep Is Now Free for Everyone

This past June, the company that created the SAT helped the Khan Academy launch a free online learning portal for any student who wants help getting ready for the SAT or PSAT. Check out the site for yourself. If you’re like me, you’ll look at these interactive tools and video lessons and wish they had been around when you were in high school. I’m very excited about this development because of what it means for kids who can’t afford expensive test-prep classes and tutors.

SUCCESS!
We’d love to start by practicing what you missed on the PSAT.

To make this happen, we’ll have you sign in to CollegeBoard.org and send your PSAT results to Khan Academy. Doing this will enable you to skip our diagnostic quizzes. We will also receive updates about the date of your upcoming SAT.

If you haven’t taken the PSAT yet, no worries, let’s take your first diagnostic quiz.

Ideas on ways to engage teens in productive practice on Khan Academy?
Recommendations from community groups:

- Identify a leader to help facilitate and motivate consistent practice - this is a key role in supporting perseverance and habit.
- Incorporate into teen and/or summer programming plans and provide space for students to practice.
- Think of fun ways to incentivize practice – movie ticket, field trips, pizza party, etc.
- Don’t forget to get parents and schools involved as this helps to further support the student’s motivation to use the program.
Thanks!
