

Creating Relationships for Sustainability Worksheet

Our Program's Vision

Current Partners

Name of partner

Who they represent in the community (e.g., business)

Their mission/interests

Needed resources from the partnership

Actions to be taken (if any)

Who is responsible?

Name of partner

Who they represent in the community (e.g., business)

Their mission/interests

Needed resources from the partnership

Actions to be taken (if any)

Who is responsible?

Potential Partners

Name of potential partner
Who they represent in the community (e.g., business)
Their mission/interests
Needed resources from the partnership
Actions to be taken (if any)
Who is responsible?

Name of potential partner
Who they represent in the community (e.g., business)
Their mission/interests
Needed resources from the partnership
Actions to be taken (if any)
Who is responsible?

Questions for Consideration:

- What groups or organizations from the community are missing?
- Are all stakeholders represented?
- Is leadership and responsibility shared among all partners?
- Are roles and responsibilities clear to all partners?
- Are all partners moving toward goals to achieve the common vision?

From The Road to Sustainability (p. 11), by Afterschool Alliance and National Center for Community Education, 2002, Washington, D.C.: Afterschool Alliance. Adapted with permission. Retrieved from <http://www.afterschoolalliance.org/documents/Toolbox/RoadtoSustainability.pdf>